Introduction

Please make your introductory comments below, if any:

< ESMA_COMMENT_CP_MIFID_1 >

AFG² welcomes the opportunity to answer Esma's consultation on MIFID II/MIFIR which contains topics of importance for our members.

There is a general concern of bond market investors, including our members, that some provisions proposed by ESMA in terms of disclosure requirements of orders and trades could be very detrimental for the bond markets. Eventually an inappropriate calibration would directly lead to higher spreads and higher cost for the end investors. In particular, our members consider that the large in scale thresholds for bonds proposed by ESMA would not be workable.

Regarding ETFs, AFG members think ADT is not an appropriate criterion to define the liquidity of ETFs; thus they would not recommend any thresholds linked to ADT.

Regarding the reporting, our members have the following general comments:

- ESMA should be careful not to impose too heavy a burden on market participants;
- If the quality of current reporting does not reach expectations, ESMA should spend more time in controlling the implementation of existing reporting and less to develop new requirements;
- Transparency is at the heart of many different regulations and it is of paramount relevance to adopt common standards for all these reporting requirements; our experience is that Regulators should take a transversal view and try and address the operational question "does it impact my central data basis?"; the cost of running and adjusting for new and slightly different items is huge; consequently our members support such actions as the LEI initiative and the universal UPI knowing that they could be extended to include further items of identification of issuers and products.

Q1. Do you agree with the list of information set out in draft RTS to be provided to the competent authority of the home Member State? If not, what other information should ESMA consider?

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_1>

When the investment firm meets the rules governing money laundering or terrorist financing, we don't see why the applicant firm has to provide informations about sources of private financial resources (RTS 1 art 2, 1.a)

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_1>

Q2. Do you agree with the conditions, set out in this CP, under which a firm that is a natural person or a legal person managed by a single natural person can be authorised? If no, which criteria should be added or deleted?

Q4. Do you agree with the approach proposed by ESMA on the topic of obstacles which may prevent effective exercise of the supervisory functions of the competent authority?

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_4>

We think that, to be an obstacle to the exercise of the supervisory function the incomplete information or situation has to prevent seriously the competent authority to effectively appraise the suitability of the shareholder.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_6>

Q29. Do you agree with ESMA's proposal on the form of the information to provide to clients? Please provide details on your answer.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_29>

Q30. Do you agree with the approach taken by ESMA? Would a different period of measurement be more useful for the published reports?

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_30>

AFG shares the view of many investment firms that too much information brings confusion and is not in favour of investors protection. All details such as average data required by ESMA in its proposed RTS 6 are not informative for those instruments that are not liquid. ESMA pointed out that level 1 did not provide for a split between liquid and illiquid instruments, but it is for ESMA to introduce that type of distinction highly recommended by different categories of stakeholders and that is not forbidden by level 1. It is very distressful to read in §19 page 42 that "ESMA is mindful of the potential volume of data to be disclosed by venues" and to realise that there is no proportionality introduced in the requirements..

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_30>

Q35. Do you agree with the proposed approach? If not, what other information should ESMA consider?

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_35>

AFG notes that under RTS 7 investment firms are required to report information on all 5 venues they most commonly use to execute clients orders. Some of those venues might be based in third countries. All information flows that European venues should publish under RTS 6 will not be available for those foreign venues. Maybe parts of this reporting are not that important to assess best execution and could be reduced in a proportionate manner (see our response to question 30) in order not to favour delocalisation of trading in non-member States with a view to circumvent reporting obligations.

In some instances a transaction will not take place inside the bid ask spread but outside: for example, if the volume to trade instantly is large and there is a real risk that predators might intervene before the total order is executed on different venues on the basis of their lit order book. So, the assessment of the quality of execution must take into consideration different elements that are not always self-evident at first sight. Conclusions should not be drawn too rapidly without more profound investigation.

3. Transparency

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_37>

Q38. Do you agree with the proposal to determine on an annual basis the most relevant market in terms of liquidity as the trading venue with the highest turnover in the relevant financial instrument by excluding transactions executed under some pre-trade transparency waivers? Please provide reasons for your answers.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_38>

Our members generally agree with ESMA's proposal.

Nevertheless, regarding ETFs, our members estimate that it is very complex to define the most relevant market in terms of liquidity as ETFs are mostly dealt OTC, with negotiated price based on RM bid-offer prices. Nonetheless, in the aim of setting a reference, our members may see no objection to set the most liquid market as the one showing the biggest turnover. This usually would also be the trading venues with the tightest spreads and deepest order book. We see no objection for an annual review. Our members question the fact that ESMA proposal would exclude under waiver trades in a specific instrument. We think it would make more sense to also take into account deferred trades which were dealt under waivers as they are representing the biggest part of the volume.

Our members express against considering any independent RFQ systems as candidates for "most relevant markets in terms of liquidity". Indeed, these systems do not offer full time quotation and are dependent on the kind and number of members. They are not accessible by all the market participants.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_38>

Q39. Do you agree with the proposed exhaustive list of negotiated transactions not contributing to the price formation process? What is your view on including non-standard or special settlement trades in the list? Would you support including non-standard settlement transactions only for managing settlement failures? Please provide reasons for your answers.

Q42. Do you agree with the classes, thresholds and frequency of calculation proposed by ESMA for ETFs? Would you support an alternative approach based on a single large in scale threshold of €1 million to apply to all ETFs regardless of their liquidity? Please provide reasons for your answers.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_42>

Some of our members, that are also issuers of ETFs, do not think ADT (Average Daily Turnover) is an appropriate criterion to qualify the liquidity of ETFs as 70%-80% of the volumes are dealt OTC and as the liquidity of an ETF depends on its underlying assets. As a consequence, they do not think it is appropriate to fix LIS on ADT bands.

Our members think that having a single LIS would make a lot of sense, for the sake of transparency, simplicity. For the sake of the stability in quotation during the day, they would nonetheless warn against the €1 million threshold as this remains too high for many ETFs, especially the ones whose underlying indices cover regions with different trading hours and no futures available during European trading hours, like the emerging ones.

Our members are in favor of a unique LIS.

Q49. Do you agree with the proposed list of information that trading venues and investment firms shall made public? Please provide reasons for your answers.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_49>

Yes, our members generally agree. Nevertheless, there may be a concern that these provisions could be duplicative with Art. 9 of EMIR and thus we advocate this point should be further analysed by ESMA.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_49>

Q50. Do you consider that it is necessary to include the date and time of publication among the fields included in Table 1 Annex 1 of Draft RTS 8? Please provide reasons for your answer.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_50>

Yes.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_50>

Q51. Do you agree with the proposed list of flags that trading venues and investment firms shall made public? Please provide reasons for your answers.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_51>

Yes. However, AFG urges ESMA to align its requirements to the greatest extent possible with existing reporting such as under EMIR.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_51>

Q52. Do you agree with the proposed definitions of normal trading hours for market operators and for OTC? Do you agree with shortening the maximum possible delay to one minute? Do you think some types of transactions, such as portfolio trades should benefit from longer delays? Please provide reasons for your answers.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_52>

AFG members agree with the normal trading hours definition for market operators and for OTC. However, they tend to disagree on the shortening maximum delay to 1 minute vs 3 minutes as a 3 minutes delay is already a very short period for traders to operate.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_52>

Q53. Do you agree that securities financing transactions and other types of transactions subject to conditions other than the current market valuation of the financial instrument should be exempt from the reporting requirement under article

20? Do you think other types of transactions should be included? Please provide reasons for your answers.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_53>

Yes. See our answer to question 76 below.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_53>

Q54. Do you agree with the proposed classes and thresholds for large in scale transactions in shares and depositary receipts? Please provide reasons for your answers.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_54>

AFG members generally agree with the proposed classes. In terms of threshold for large in scale transactions specific provisions should be included for trading of SMEs' shares.

Additionally, AFG thinks that a periodic review of the relationship between post trade transparency requirements and liquidity in less liquid shares should be performed.<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_54>

Q55. Do you agree with the proposed classes and thresholds for large in scale transactions in ETFs? Should instead a single large in scale threshold and deferral period apply to all ETFs regardless of the liquidity of the financial instrument as described in the alternative approach above? Please provide reasons for your answers.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_55>

AFG members think ADT is not an appropriate criterion to define the liquidity of ETFs, and in order to be consistent with the decision taken on the pre-trade transparency waivers which currently considers that ADT is not appropriate for calibrating ETF liquidity and that sets all ETFs in the same liquidity band, they would not recommend any thresholds linked to ADT.

Our members are in favor of setting a reporting obligation that would be flexible for traders. They would rather suggest an immediate reporting for less than €5 million trades, and give the ability to report all the other trades anytime during the day until the end of the day; our members believe that competition on this delay for publication among market makers will eventually benefit to market participants.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_56>

Q57. Do you agree with ESMA's proposal for the definition of a liquid market? Please provide an answer for SFPs and for each of type of bonds identified (European Sovereign Bonds, Non-European Sovereign Bonds, Other European Public Bonds, Financial Convertible Bonds, Non-Financial Convertible Bonds, Covered Bonds, Senior Corporate Bonds-Financial, Senior Corporate Bonds Non-Financial, Subordinated Corporate Bonds-Financial, Subordinated Corporate Bonds Non-Financial) addressing the following points:

(1) Would you use different qualitative criteria to define the sub-classes with respect to those selected (i.e. bond type, debt seniority, issuer sub-type and issuance size)?

(2) Would you use different parameters (different from average number of trades per day, average nominal amount per day and number of days traded) or the same parameters but different thresholds in order to define a bond or a SFP as liquid?

(3) Would you define classes declared as liquid in ESMA's proposal as illiquid (or viceversa)? Please provide reasons for your answer.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_57>

AFG members think that the proposal does not distinguish sufficiently primary and secondary markets. The calibration of the definition of the liquidity for fixed income financial instruments is totally different compared to equities. The liquidity of fixed income products cannot be determined through a collection of reference data or other objective factors. Most fixed income products are mainly liquid directly after their issuance, but should be considered as illiquid afterwards. Except for some kinds of Sovereign bonds like OATs (Obligations Assimilables du Trésor), the trading activity of fixed income products cannot be determined in advance due to the narrow size of the market (in terms of participants). In case this market would be more open to smaller investors and even to retail investors, this would not allow for a wider secondary market because holding bonds until their final term is always the best solution for these investors. For these reasons, the secondary bond market will always entail a large proportion of OTC transactions.

The results of ESMA's work – the quality of which may not be contested – in terms of thresholds for transparency drive to levels which are much too high in comparison with what our members see as possible through their day to day practice of the bond market. ESMA's objective of having 90% of trades on liquid bonds not subject to waivers is clearly unrealistic and should give place to a more pragmatic approach.

The requirements in terms of transparency for bonds either would lead brokers to withdraw from the bond market or would oblige them to widen their bid-offer spreads in front of the risk that predatory firms could seek to exploit this transparency.

This would result in higher cost for end-investors and increased market volatility.

Please provide an answer for each of the asset classes identified (FRA, Swaptions, Fixed-to-Fixed single currency swaps, Fixed-to-Float single currency swaps, Float -to- Float single currency swaps, OIS single currency swaps, Inflation single currency swaps, Fixed-to-Fixed multi-currency swaps, Fixed-to-Float multi-currency swaps, Float -to-Float multi-currency swaps, OIS multi-currency swaps, bond options, bond futures, interest rate options, interest rate futures) addressing the following points:

(1) Would you use different criteria to define the sub-classes (e.g. currency, tenor, etc.)?

(2) Would you use different parameters (among those provided by Level 1, i.e. the average frequency and size of transactions, the number and type of market participants, the average size of spreads, where available) or the same parameters but different thresholds in order to define a sub-class as liquid (state also your preference for option 1 vs. option 2, i.e. application of the tenor criteria as a range as in ESMA's preferred option or taking into account broken dates. In the latter case please also provide suggestions regarding what should be set as the non-broken dates)?

(3) Would you define classes declared as liquid in ESMA's proposal as illiquid (or vice versa)? Please provide reasons for your answer.

Q70. Do you agree with ESMA's proposal with regard to the content of pre-trade transparency? Please provide reasons for your answer.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_70>

Our members and the industry at large believe that pre-trade transparency requirements as proposed in the CP for the bond market would be very detrimental. In fact, during the period between a broker responding to a Request For Quote (RFQ), which is made public, and the execution of the trade, other market participants – potentially predatory and opportunistic market participants – will have all information to be able to front-run this trade, resulting in a worse price for the broker seeking to manage his position. As a result, brokers taking on risk positions will be obliged to increase the bid/offer spreads they make, in order to protect themselves against these adverse market movements. This leads to higher costs for end-investors looking to execute in illiquid fixed income instruments. We strongly believe that at a time when the Commission is looking to enhance the role of the financial market for the funding of real economy companies through the CMU initiative, this would be contradictory.

The preferred solution that would mitigate the harmful effects of publication of the individual bids and offers in response to RFQ is to publish a composite average of those responses. This alternative is fully consistent with the level 1 text.

Q72. ESMA seeks further input on how to frame the obligation to make indicative prices public for the purpose of the Technical Standards. Which methodology do you prefer? Do you have other proposals?

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_72>

Our members deem that the thresholds proposed in RTS 9 of Annex B (Part III) are not workable in the European bond market, the liquidity of which has been decreasing for the last few years. AFG members believe that various LIS proposed thresholds have to be lowered.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_72>

Q73. Do you consider it necessary to include the date and time of publication among the fields included in Annex II, Table 1 of RTS 9? Do you consider that other relevant fields should be added to such a list? Please provide reasons for your answer.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_73>

AFG members do not think necessary to include the date and time of publication among the fields included in Annex II, Table 1 of RTS 9.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_73>

Q74. Do you agree with ESMA's proposal on the applicable flags in the context of post-trade transparency? Please provide reasons for your answer.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_74>

AFG members believe it is too detailed and that identifiers should be restricted to the essential information, i.e. identifiers for transactions which were subject to waivers or which benefitted from the use of deferrals.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_74>

Q75. Do you agree with ESMA's proposal? Please specify in your answer if you agree with:

- (1) a 3-year initial implementation period
- (2) a maximum delay of 15 minutes during this period
- (3) a maximum delay of 5 minutes thereafter. Please provide reasons for your answer.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_75>

A maximum delay of 15 minutes would be in line with the requirements under the TRACE regime in the US.

As for assessing delays afterwards, AFG believes that ESMA should observe first how the market will develop under the new transparency regime and then take a decision after a new consultation.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_75>

Q76. Do you agree that securities financing transactions and other types of transactions subject to conditions other than the current market valuation of the financial instrument should be exempt from the reporting requirement under article 21? Do you think other types of transactions should be included? Please provide reasons for your answers.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_76>

Yes, AFG completely agrees that such transactions should be exempted. SFT are not primarily based on the market price of the respective instrument, but on the rates that apply in the respective repo or securities lending market. These transactions fall under Article 21(5)(b) of MiFIR as their price is determined by factors other than current market valuation.

Furthermore, portfolio compression trades should also be included in the list of the exempted trades because their price is not determined by current market valuation either.

In addition, we suggest that RTS should permit competent authorities to grant waivers for any type of transaction, if the price is determined by factors other than a current market valuation, i.e. the RTS should not provide for an exhaustive list of types of transactions. In fact such a list cannot take into account future market developments.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_76>

Q77. Do you agree with ESMA's proposal for bonds and SFPs? Please specify, for each type of bonds identified, if you agree on the following points, providing reasons for your answer and if you disagree providing ESMA with your alternative proposal:

(1) deferral period set to 48 hours

(2) size specific to the instrument threshold set as 50% of the large in scale threshold

(3) volume measure used to set the large in scale threshold as specified in Annex II, Table 3 of draft RTS 9

(4) pre-trade and post-trade thresholds set at the same size

(5) large in scale thresholds: (a) state your preference for the system to set the thresholds (i.e. annual recalculation of the thresholds vs. no recalculation of the thresholds) (b) in the case of a preference for a system with no recalculation (i.e. option 1) provide feedback on the thresholds determined. In the case of a preference for a system with recalculation (i.e. option 2) provide feedback on the thresholds determined for 2017 and on the methodology to recalculate the thresholds from 2018 onwards including the level of granularity of the classes on which the recalculations will be performed.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_77>

(1) Our members think that the 48 hours deferral period is a minimum and should be progressively imposed, i.e. with flexibility at least during the first year of application.

(2) AFG members tend to agree with the fact that SSTI should be half of LIS for each type of bond (as a pragmatic approach).

(3) The approach of ESMA aims before all at having 90% of trades for “liquid bonds” within the scope. We deem this is more a political goal than an economically based one. The industry is afraid it introduces a real risk of blocking the bond market.

(4) Our members tend to agree with the proposal of instrument threshold being the same for both pre-trade and post-trade transparency.

In addition to the above points, our members strongly urge ESMA to lower the LIS thresholds of Table 1 (page 154) of Annex B.

AFG members strongly contest the current absolute figures for the criteria of the proportion of trades to be under the threshold because any criteria should be subordinated to the safeguard of the bond (or derivative) market liquidity.

In

other words, would you use a different level of granularity for maturities shorter than 1 year with respect to those set which are: 1 day- 1.5 months, 1.5-3 months, 3-6 months, 6 months – 1 year? Q83. Do you agree with ESMA's proposal in relation to the supplementary deferral regime at the discretion of the NCA? Please provide reasons for your answer.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_83>

Our members are supportive in general of the ESMA's proposal regarding the supplementary deferral regime. In particular for smaller markets or markets more dependent of market makers it is important that local NCAs have access to sufficiently long deferral periods (possibility of 4 weeks extended time) as well as aggregated publication.

NCAs may have a better knowledge of their local non-equity market, in order to set the appropriate level of deferral taking into account the needs of investors, issuers and trading systems (recital 16 MiFIR). This flexibility regime would compensate the absence of any phase-in approach for the EU transparency regime and would avoid the detrimental effects of the uniform level of transparency for some markets.

Q130. Do you envisage any short-term impacts following the implementation of the new regime that might need technical adjustments? Please provide reasons for your answer.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_130>

Our members welcome ESMA's decision to assert the ETFs to a unique liquidity band.

Some of our members note, following their analysis of impact of the proposed tick size regime, that spreads will be very much wider than they currently are.

Also, they are in favor of a tick size regime set on the previous day closing price and would suggest ESMA to consider setting a unique tick size table for ETF, with tick sizes based on half the level of the current ESMA proposal which was previously set for most liquid shares.

ESMA should keep in mind that the instruments used to hedge on the underlying index of an ETF, like the Futures, are trading with extremely small tick size (0.001). Our members would definitely like their clients to benefit from the capacity of the traders to show on the market prices with very tight spreads as they are themselves able to hedge at such conditions. Setting the proposed table would not permit ETFs to benefit from the tightness of the hedge and proxies, thus not benefiting clients<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_130>

Our members would agree to define such a market in terms of liquidity on the market displaying the highest turnover (number of shares * price). However, they would not consider any independent RFQ systems for any such definition as the latter do not provide any continuous quote nor activity and as the client sending the request is the only one to access the market-makers prices and have the ability to trade on them.

9. Post-trading issues

Q239. What are your views on the pre-check to be performed by trading venues for orders related to derivative transactions subject to the clearing obligation and the proposed time frame?

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_239>

In the article 3 of the proposed draft RTS, AFG suggests that a clearing member shall also include in copy its clients when he sends to the trading venue the limits applicable to the latters. This allows to the clearing member's clients to react if the clearing member provides to the trading venue the wrong limit.

The proposed draft RTS make a distinction depending on whether the order is entered into electronically or not. AFG suggests to define the notion of "order entered into electronically".

AFG agrees with the proposed timeframe by ESMA.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_239>

Q240. What are your views on the categories of transactions and the proposed timeframe for submitting executed transactions to the CCP?

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_240>

AFG agrees with the proposed timeframe by ESMA for submitting executed transactions to the CCP. The proposed timeframe assumes that trading venues have robust IT infrastructures and back-up procedures in place to be able to meet these timing requirements.

Furthermore, AFG considers that it is necessary to clarify:

- the consequence attached to the failure of the counterparties to send trade details to the CCP within the proposed 30 minutes of the execution of the transaction (cancellation, re-submission, etc.);
- that the requirement for counterparties to send trade details to the CCP within 30 minutes from the point of execution may be fulfilled by any appropriate electronic means, including an appropriate trade source system (Middleware).

AFG recommends, when the derivative transaction is concluded on a bilateral basis, that where at least one of the party to the executed transaction is a sell-side firm, the transmission burden be placed on that party, simply because dealers generally have systems and infrastructures in place to ensure that the information is sent on a much quicker timescale.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_240>

Q241. What are your views on the proposal that the clearing member should receive the information related to the bilateral derivative contracts submitted for clearing and the timeframe?

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_241>

AFG agrees with the proposed timeframe by ESMA.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_241>

Q242. What are your views on having a common timeframe for all categories of derivative transactions? Do you agree with the proposed timeframe?

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_242>

AFG agrees with the proposed common timeframe by ESMA.

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_242>

Q243. What are your views on the proposed treatment of rejected transactions?

<ESMA_QUESTION_CP_MIFID_243>

AFG partially disagrees with the approach proposed by ESMA. AFG suggests that paragraph 1 of Article 7 be amended to reference all transactions subject to the clearing obligation under Article 2 regardless of whether they are concluded bilaterally or on a trading venue.

AFG notes at paragraph 3 of Article 7 that the treatment of all rejected transactions, which were executed bilaterally, should be left to the counterparties. Furthermore, AFG understand that this paragraph 3 of article 7 concerns the transactions referred to in Section 2, which are subject to the clearing obligation and executed bilaterally.

To the extent that transactions subject to the clearing obligation are required to be cleared without there being any other choice for the counterparties, we do not perceive what other treatment the counterparties may accept upon a rejection of such transactions by the CCP.

In the AFG's view, ESMA should retain a common treatment for all transactions subject to the clearing obligation (i.e. void the rejected contract). Only the treatment of transactions that are not subject to the clearing obligation should be left to the counterparties or governed by the rules of the trading venue, as applicable. Such a uniform approach (i.e. void the rejected contract) would provide sufficient legal certainty, consistency in the derivative markets and would limit treatment by the counterparties that can be otherwise subjective and for sure at the disadvantage of the buy-side entity.

Q244. Do you agree with the proposed draft RTS? Do you believe it addresses the stakeholders concerns on the lack of indirect clearing services offering? If not, please provide detailed explanations on the reasons why a particular provision would limit such a development as well as possible alternatives.

Q245. Do you believe that a gross omnibus account segregation, according to which the clearing member is required to record the collateral value of the assets, rather than the assets held for the benefit of indirect clients, achieves together with other requirements included in the draft RTS a protection of equivalent effect to the indirect clients as the one envisaged for clients under EMIR?
